A NEW KIND OF POLITICS

That Will Enrich the Whole
American Northwest.

A brand new kind of "politics" has shown up. But it isn't politics at all, in the sense that the word is usually used. Instead, it is a platform for the regeneration of every farm in the eight states of the American Northwest.

It seems that an inquisitive farmer asked Editor Willis of Minneapolis: "What are the politics of your paper?" He replies with this Ringed Declaration of Orange Judd Northwest Farmstead.

1. To make three bushels of grain grow where one grows now.
2. To make forage crops, grasses and pasture twice as good and four times as profitable as at present.
3. To make fruits, vegetables and other crops better in quality and profit.
4. To enable Northwestern farmers to make more and better crops of all kinds and larger profits.
5. To promote improved live stock until the Northwest furnishes to the rest of the United States and to foreign countries a vastly larger surplus of meats, butter, cheese, eggs and manufactures therefrom.
6. To reform distribution, banking and currency, so as to make universal more economic methods of marketing the products of American farms and factories, forests and mines, and in supplying our people's consuming needs.
7. To wisely utilize the Northwest's natural resource so that they may yield handsome profits at present, and yet be conserved for future generations.
8. To improve the Northwest's highways and railroads, rivers and harbors, until they are adequate to the needs of a mighty people.
9. To improve our schools until every young person in country or town may be trained in efficiency, health and character, and imbued with that knowledge and the capacity to use it.
10. To link more closely school and home, farm and factory, so that the one may more benefit the other.
11. To aid, in these and other ways, the Northwest to have fourfold its present population, each of whom shall enjoy "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."
12. Thus to make for a Greater Nation through a Greater Northwest.

Comment on the Above is not needed; each plank speaks for itself. But you won't find any of our planks in the platform of any political party.

Yet how much more important is Northwest Farmstead's platform! Just think a bit, and you will see how true is our statement. For all the candidates for office might not miraculously disappear, congress and legislatures might not meet for a couple of years. Yet the United States and the world would go right along with scarcely a ripple. But let American farmers for a single season fail to produce a surplus of foods for market, and the economic fabric of the whole occident would be upset!

Soil and seas and forest support the world. Better farming means better living and better times for all—and this means, also, that people shall "get into gear with nature," or in tune with the infinite, and enjoy the harmony of body, mind and soul that is the real thing in this life.

So we fancy pretty much all our folks up here will say amen to Northwest Farmstead's platform. Now let's all pitch in to work it out. For God helps those who help themselves.

Dr. Winnard has taken a special course on eye diseases and is prepared to fit glasses properly.

IONE.

Mrs. J. O. Kincaid and Miss Mable Mason left Thursday morning of last week for Stanfield.

J. H. Bryson and E. L. Padberg went out to Gooseberry last week on a business trip.

Mr. Chas. Johnson, one of Heppner's Jewellers was an lone visitor last week. Come in Charlie.

We saw "Uncle Sam" of Heppner on our streets the other day shaking hands with friends and acquaintances.

Harold Mason went down to Corvallis Thursday of last week where he will attend school this winter. Stay with it Harold.

Jack Hynd of Cecil was up to Ione last week and spent Wednesday night with friends. Jack has been up where the sheep are lately and he reports them doing fine.

Miss Mable McNabb, one of our young ladies, has taken charge of the school at Cecil, and while she has a nice little house full, there are some not attending. We wish her success in her new location.

Doctor Chick and little Doc were Heppner visitors last week, the Doctor going up on professional business.

George Ritchie came in from Frank Willson's thresher last week having put in sixty days harvesting. George says they still have about twenty days run.

Ed Glock, one of our old time farmers, came up from Portland last week and spent a few days shaking hands with friends in and about Ione.

Grandma Balsiger returned from White Salmon last week where she has spent the summer with relatives.

Miss Mable Davidson, departed for Corvallis where she will attend school this winter. Our best wishes go with Mable.

Charles Shaver and wife were passengers to Pendleton last Monday where they will see the sights for a few days.

J. E. Swanson and J. A. Waters made a business trip to Morgan Tuesday of last week.

Joe Knappenberger went up to Heppner Tuesday evening of last week to attend to some business matters.

Lorin D. Hale returned to Ione Tuesday evening of last week and will be one of the loneites once more. Lorin says he had his fill of fishing for once as they were in abundance where he was located this summer.

Mrs. Clyde Sperry and her son Rhea returned from Portland last week after spending a couple of enjoyable weeks with relatives down there.

E. L. Padberg took a load out to John Millers sale in his auto last Saturday.

C. B. Sperry went over to the Madras country last Monday on some business matters.

Walt Smith was a passenger to Pendleton on Monday's train where he will have a good time during the "Let'er back" season.

A party was held at the home of C. J. Pennington last week where quite a number of the young people gathered together in honor of Mable Davidson. They all report a splendid time.

Happy, Bob and Jess went up to Pendleton on Tuesday's train where they will spend a few days sight seeing and having a good time.

Mrs. Evans, of Biddeford, Maine, is visiting at Ione. She is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Chick.

John Olden and wife were in town bright and early Monday morning and went up to Pendleton to visit with friends during the Round-up.

Mr. Oronan was a passenger down the line last Monday morning. We did not learn where he was bound for.

Willard Blake returned from Montana last Saturday night where he has been for some time trying to get some good beef cattle.

Joe Smith and wife, who have been helping Paul Rietmann through the harvest left Monday morning for Boise, Idaho.

C. B. Sperry returned from Valley points last week where he has been for several days.

S. P. Wilson, who has been in and about Ione for some little time, started for his home near Portland last Monday.

We understand that the rabbits are so plentiful about Cecil that the Coyotes are foundering themselves on them, and dead Coyotes may be found all over the range.

IRRIGON.

Harry Lister went to Hermiston to have some repair work done on his wagon.

M. F. Wadsworth became utterly disgusted with city life and consequently sought refuge in Mr. Sushan's hay field for a few days the past week.

Miss Parks aunt, Miss Sue Embry from Hermiston was down Saturday and Sunday to visit her and the Egberts.

Mr. Hodson from near Lexington came round to carry away some of Irrigon's fine grapes and luscious melons of course he paid for them.

Mrs. H. R. Walpole and children remained all week in Pendleton to enjoy the festivities of the Fair and Round-up.

Mr. Doble shipped another car load of alfalfa hay this week.

Guy Covey went to Portland for a short stay of a week or so with his grandma, Mrs. Kelsey.

Mr. Kicker and daughters took in the Pendleton Fair and Round-up

Parker-Reaney.

At the home of the bride's parents, near Lexington, on last Sunday evening at the hour of 7:30, occurred the marriage of two of Lexington's young people, Mr. Arthur P. Parker and Miss Emma Pearl Reaney. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John McAllister of Heppner under an arch of green foliage and pink and white cut flowers. Mr. Arthur Beymer acted as best man and Miss Hazel Reaney was bridesmaid. Two little misses, Clara O. Phelps and Elvira T. Lee were flower girl and ring bearer, respectively, while Miss Lucy Davis presided at the piano and played the wedding march.

The bride was beautifully attired in a dainty blue messaline trimmed in blue and gold over lace with a rope girdle and streamers of blue satin ribbon. She wore a bride's veil caught with a wreath of orange blossoms. The groom wore the conventional black.

Following the ceremony a bountiful wedding supper was spread. This was very sumptuous and it was immensely enjoyed by the forty invited guests.

The young people were the recipients of many valuable and useful wedding gifts, among which were the following: Set of dishes, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Parker; silver berry spoon, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Baldwin; silver sugar shell, E. T. Carrie; silver salad set, spoon and fork, Miss Hazel Reaney; silver fruit knives, Mrs. T. H. Lee; silver gravey ladel and cold meat fork, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Parker; set of silver teaspoons, Loyal Parker; set of silver table spoons, Miss Lucy Davis; silver sugar shell, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Campbell; hand painted gold ivory set, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Scott; glass fruit set, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Parker; cocoa set, Mrs. E. D. Palmer and daughter Ceatta; combination set consisting of water set, fruit set, tea set, Mr. Arthur Beymer; set of china tea cups and saucers, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wells; china tea set and hand worked doiley, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lane; set of hand worked pillow cases, set of drawn pillow cases, and set of pillows, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Phelps; Toilet set of ten pieces, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reaney; table linen, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Reaney; jelly dish, Edith Reaney; hand made sofa pillow, Clara Phelps; big squash, little Andrew Baldwin. Mr. E. H. Carey, an uncle of the groom presented the newly married couple with 200 shares of the Stockton, Wyoming Oil Co. stock.

The young couple left for Pendleton on their honeymoon on Tuesday morning and expect to visit relatives in Walla Walla before returning to Lexington where they will make their home.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the good people of Heppner for their kind assistance and tender sympathy attending the death and burial of our beloved husband and father, and especially do we thank those kind friends for the many beautiful flowers.

Mrs. Edward Hale and Family.

Farmers Attention!

Dr. J. F. Morel, state veterinarian, will be in Ione on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 27 and 28, to examine such horses as may be afflicted with the "walking disease." If those having horses affected will call J. H. Bryson at the lone livery stable they will receive attention.

S. W. Spencer, H. H. Hoffman, Guy Boyer and Thomas Brennan formed a party that hiked out to the mountains in the vicinity of the old Hamilton mill bright and early Sunday morning with no other purpose in view than that of landing a big buck deer that was supposed to be staked out in that vicinity and awaiting the arrival of these "sports" that he might be led to the slaughter. The professor was the only real hunter of the bunch as it transpired, and he bagged some game. It is reported, too, that he got lost in going round the mountain, but this is forgiven and forgotten—he got the game. But it is also reported by others of the bunch that the professor became greatly excited and forgot that a buck deer is supposed to have horns; the one he got had none and these fellows are mean enough to say that his deer turned out to be a Jersey calf. We can't vouch for the truthfulness of this story, but it must be so. There is nothing like getting game when you go after it.

Dr. F. Dye is now comfortably located in the office rooms formerly occupied by Dr. Metzler in the Odd Fellows building. He has been busy for several days getting fitted up and now has things in such shape that he feels he will become a permanent fixture in the town.

Harvey Yeager, of Portland, visited the home folks in Heppner a few days the past week on his way to the Round-Up.

Miss Lorena Meadows is visiting in Heppner.

Mrs. Ehr Gott Speaks.

Sarah B. F. Ehr Gott of Portland visited in Heppner on Thursday last in the interest of "Votes for Women." Mrs. Ehr Gott came to Heppner unannounced but was given a fair hearing in a street meeting in front of the post office. She is a mighty bright little woman, well posted on her subject and a good speaker. She discovered a strong sentiment in favor of votes for women at this place.
